

A Shark's Guide to Hunting Canberra's Waters

As a hungry shark, it pays to hunt in the correct locations around Canberra in order to maximise your catch potential.

This guide will help you find the fish you want to catch, and give you some options if your happy to eat virtually anything!

Remember, if you find a good hunting location...

...remember to share this with your fellow sharks!

There are lots of fine specimens, like this blonde in blue hipster jeans seen at the Academy Night Club in Civic.

The beautiful redhead featured below can often be seen at the Hyatt Hotel every Friday night after work.

However, if your not quite the shark you used to be, you can always swim a little further out to the deep ocean and try your luck with these beauties from the outskirts of Canberra!

The Charnwood Pub offers a few surprises for the late night hunter!

And how can one forget beauties like this one seen at the Erindale Club

Check out this babe from the South Pacific Club in the City.

And if your swimming in those southern waters,
why not drop into the Captains Flat Hotel and hook up with something you'll never forget?
